

An uncountable family of generalized inverse limit spaces which are pointwise self-homeomorphic

Faruq A. Mena

Soran University

faruq.mena@soran.edu.iq

A continuum K is a point-wise self homeomorphic if for each $p \in K$, and each neighborhood of p , there exist a subcontinuum L in the neighborhood of p homeomorphic to the continuum K . In this talk, we show an uncountable family of generalized inverse sequences such that the inverse limits are pointwise self-homeomorphic.

(joint work with Ali H. Ali)